

Emmanuelle Assouan is Deputy Director General for financial stability and operations in Banque de France and Deputy Secretary General in Autorité de Contrôle prudentiel et de résolution. Her areas of responsibility currently cover financial stability and regulatory affairs for credit institutions and insurers.

Emmanuelle Assouan had previously held several positions in relation to payments and market infrastructures, but also management of foreign exchange reserves of Banque de France, implementation of monetary policy, and banking supervision.

She has chaired or co-chaired several working and standing groups in international or European fora (ESRB and CPMI).

Emmanuelle Assouan joined the Banque de France in 1997, and is a graduate of the Institut d'Etudes Politiques de Paris.