EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Introduction

1. Pursuant to Regulation (EU) No 1093/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 24 November 2010 establishing the EBA, the EBA's work programme provides a comprehensive overview of the Authority's objectives and activities for the next few years in accordance with its mandate and the ambitions of the Management Board.
2. The planning of the EBA's work programme is an essential exercise to determine the focus of the EBA's work and where it should allocate its resources, allowing appropriate prioritisation of the EBA's tasks for 2019. The EBA's work programme comprises its annual and multi-annual work programmes.
3. The 2019-2022 multi-annual work programme is defined by the strategic areas that the EBA has proposed for the forthcoming years, and summarises the main objectives derived from the mandates specified in the regulation and from the relevant EU banking sector legislation.
4. Each strategic area is complemented with annual work programme activities that detail the tasks to be delivered within the year and the resources needed for that purpose. These provide transparency and accountability to the EBA's stakeholders, serving to internally link the day-to-day work and processes to strategic areas.
5. The EBA expects a considerable number of legislative reforms from the Commission (as is already reflected in this document), which will affect the planned work for 2019. These are (i) a review of the CRR and the consequences of the BCBS's revision of the trading book; (ii) implementation of TLAC; (iii) a follow-up on the discussion on proportionality in the regulatory framework; and (iv) possible mandates stemming from the covered bonds legislation.
6. The EBA has also received new mandates that are already included in this document. These are (i) the mandates on the securitisation framework in the context of the CMU, which are due to be delivered in 2019; (ii) the mandates on NPLs; (iii) the mandates on FinTech<sup>1</sup>; and (iv) the mandates on sustainable finance<sup>2</sup>.
7. Furthermore, the UK's triggering of Article 50 of the Treaty on European Union has started the 2-year process for its withdrawal from the EU, which has had a twofold impact on the EBA and its work programme. Firstly, the EBA is actively engaged in the coordination of the CAs' work around institutions' contingency planning and preparedness and analysis of risks and policy implications for the EU institutions, as well as coordinating the work on supervisory cooperation between the authorities, including their development of MoU templates. In addition, given the EBA's expected relocation, Brexit significantly affects the EBA's own operations as well. Therefore, Brexit-related work will remain a horizontal priority for the EBA in 2019. Secondly, the EBA's other activities may be affected in the future and any substantial change in the work programme will be communicated in due time, in order to seek steering and approval from the Management Board and Board of Supervisors.

8. On 12 September 2018, the Commission published a communication<sup>3</sup> to strengthen the Union framework for prudential and AML supervision for financial institutions. The strategy, based on an analysis by a Joint Working Group with the ESAs' participation, primarily focuses on strengthening the EBA's role as an authority for tackling money laundering at the EU level, and proposes to assign additional tasks to the EBA.
9. Finally, in the areas of payment services and consumer protection, the EBA will be shifting its focus towards the convergence of supervisory practices, in respect of the EBA's product oversight and governance guidelines as well as the transitional period of the PSD2.

The EBA's mission

10. The EBA's mission is 'to build a single regulatory and supervisory framework for the entire banking sector in the 28 EU Member States<sup>4</sup>, so as to ensure an efficient, transparent and stable Single Market that benefits its consumers, businesses and the broader economy'.
11. The main task of the EBA is to contribute, through the adoption of binding technical standards and guidelines, to the creation of the European Single Rulebook in banking. The Single Rulebook aims to provide a single set of harmonised prudential rules for financial institutions throughout the EU, helping to create a level playing field and providing a high level of protection for depositors, investors and consumers.
12. The Authority also plays an important role in promoting the convergence of supervisory and resolution practices to ensure a harmonised application of prudential rules. Finally, the EBA is mandated to assess risks and vulnerabilities in the EU banking sector through, in particular, regular risk assessment reports and EU-wide stress tests.
13. Other tasks set out in the EBA's mandate include:
  - investigating allegedly incorrect or insufficient application of EU law by national authorities;
  - taking decisions directed at individual CAs or financial institutions in emergency situations;
  - mediating to resolve disagreements between CAs in cross-border situations;
  - acting as an independent advisory body to the European Parliament, the Council or the Commission;
  - taking a leading role in promoting transparency, simplicity and fairness in the market for consumer financial products or services across the internal market.

14. To perform these tasks, the EBA is mandated to produce a number of regulatory and non-regulatory documents, including binding technical standards, guidelines, recommendations, opinions and ad-hoc or regular reports.

THE EBA'S STRATEGIC PRIORITIES

Introduction

15. The EBA has agreed at the EBA Management Board the key priorities for the organisation, which have been reflected in the preparation of this EBA 2019 Work Programme, to be submitted to the European Parliament, the Council and the Commission by the end of September 2018.
16. The EBA strategic priorities have taken into account the new EBA organisation and envisaged tasks for 2019.

Defining 2019 strategic priorities

I. Leading the Basel III implementation in the EU

17. The development of the Single Rulebook and its effective and consistent application will remain the core business of the EBA during 2019. The EBA is still likely to have a significant amount of regulatory mandates in the coming 3 years, following (i) the endorsement of the CRDV-CRR2-BRRD2 package and (ii) the preparation of the implementation of the Basel III framework. In addition to this development of the EBA Single Rulebook for supervision and resolution, the focus of the organisation will increasingly shift to the 'implementation surveillance' function, as reflected in the recent internal restructuring of activities.
18. In the first instance, extensive impact assessments will be needed to analyse the effect of the international standards and ensure that they are transposed in accordance with the principle of proportionality, taking into account the compliance burden for smaller and less sophisticated banks and the impact on different business models. Secondly, the newly agreed framework should be complemented with two equally important toolkits to address and monitor undue variability and potential arbitrage in the risk-weighted assets calculation: the bottom-up repair of modelling practices and the benchmarking analysis of internal models. Finally, transparency vis-à-vis the markets should be enhanced to accompany the implementation of the newly agreed rules.

II. Understanding risks and opportunities arising from financial innovation

19. Financial innovation offers great opportunities but also introduces new risks and challenges, having the potential to transform the financial system across a broad range of products and services. Product innovation, including the implementation of the simple and transparent securitisation framework, and the sustainable finance and green bonds standards, will be an important element in the EBA's work.
20. Financial technology will affect many aspects of banking, such as business models and consumer interaction, reporting and compliance (including anti-money laundering), and the development of new financing.

21. The EBA has a FinTech Roadmap in place, approved by the Board of Supervisors in February 2018. The EBA will have to secure the right balance between close monitoring of the perimeter and ensuring supervisory neutrality towards new technology. By setting up the EBA FinTech Knowledge Hub, the EBA will facilitate information and experience sharing, to raise awareness and to support the transfer of knowledge on FinTech.
22. The EBA will work in the following policy areas: (i) authorisation and regulatory sandbox regimes; (ii) prudential risks for institutions and the impact of FinTech on the business models of institutions; (iii) broader cyber security issues; (iv) consumer protection and retail conduct of business issues; (v) the impact of FinTech on the resolution of credit institutions and investment firms; and (vi) the impact of FinTech on AML/CFT.

III. Collecting, disseminating and analysing banking data

23. The finalisation of the data infrastructure and analytical project will put the EBA in a position to function as an EU-wide data hub for CAs as well as for the public. The expanded access to supervisory data should allow further improved risk analysis and facilitate enhanced dissemination and disclosure of bank data, including Pillar 3. It will also enhance the EBA's ability to assess the impact of regulatory reforms, with a special focus on proportionality and the possibility of analysing the effects on specific business models while reducing significantly the need for ad hoc data collections. The EBA will also be better positioned to develop evidence-based policy analysis, with the aim of leading EU-wide debates on regulatory and supervisory matters, as well as expanding its portfolio of publications.

IV. Ensuring a smooth relocation of the EBA to Paris

24. The EBA relocation to Paris represents a significant challenge for the EBA. The EBA staff and business will be affected by this change, which exposes the organisation to a high operational risk.
25. The objective for 2019 will be to implement a smooth relocation to Paris and reduce the level of disruption for staff and stakeholders to a minimum, in order to maintain business continuity.

V. Fostering the increase of the loss-absorbing capacity of the EU banking system

26. During the shift from bail-out to bail-in, it is of paramount importance to support credit institutions and resolution authorities in their efforts to progressively build up gone-concern, loss-absorbing and recapitalisation capacity.
27. To address this need, the EBA's objective will be to ensure that MREL decisions taken by resolution authorities are supported by (i) credible and consistent resolution-planning work and (ii) clarity on the expected composition and quality of MREL, in terms of both subordination and, if applicable, other eligibility criteria and potential exclusions.

Horizontal priorities for policy work across the EBA

- 28. Further efforts in implementing the proportionality principle. Proportionality is not seen as a strategic objective per se, as the proportionality principle is to be taken into account in all EBA activities rather than an objective in itself.
- 29. Strengthening supervisory convergence and integrity of the Single Rulebook. The EBA convergence strategy is based around three key elements: (i) monitoring and assessment; (ii) regulatory products; and (iii) training. Monitoring and assessment is conducted by the EBA staff through peer reviews, desk-based reviews, college monitoring and bilateral engagements with competent and resolution authorities. Identification of divergent supervisory or resolution practices and/or outcomes leads to the development of regulatory products, for which the EBA's training for the authorities is used to ensure their consistent application.
- 30. Enhancing consumer protection. The EBA will continue to enhance the protection of consumers who use banking and payment products such as mortgages, personal loans, deposits (including structured deposits), payment accounts, payment services and electronic money. In so doing, it will promote transparency, simplicity and fairness in consumer financial products and services across the EU Single Market.
- 31. Preparation for the withdrawal of the UK from the EU. On 29 March 2017, the United Kingdom triggered Article 50 of the Treaty on European Union, beginning the 2-year process for its withdrawal from the EU. In response to these developments, and within its mandate, the EBA is actively engaged in the coordination of the CAs work around institutions' contingency planning and preparedness and analysis of risks and policy implications for the EU institutions, as well as coordinating the work on supervisory cooperation between the authorities, including their development of MoU templates.

THE EBA'S ACTIVITIES

Activity 4: Loss absorbency

Description	MREL is a requirement for a bank to hold a sufficient amount of own funds and debt instruments of a certain quality, in order to absorb losses and recapitalise its critical functions in case of failure. This requirement is to be set for each bank by the relevant resolution authorities in line with both the BRRD and the regulatory standards developed by the EBA. Total loss-absorbing capacity is a regulatory standard introduced by the FSB in November 2015. It is applicable to G-SIBs and pursues the same objectives as MREL. In the context of the policy work on MREL, the EBA will perform a number of tasks.
Main outputs	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Monitoring of MREL eligible liabilities [tbc].</li> </ul>	Ongoing
