

CURRICULUM VITAE

László Vastag graduated from the College of Finance and Accounting in 1996. In 1997 he started his career in the banking sector. He held various positions from risk management to business functions, predominantly in the field of financing large corporates and structured project finance transactions. László spent 5 years abroad between 2011 and 2016 within UniCredit Group, first in Austria, where he worked in the CEE Holding within the Portfolio and Pricing Management Unit and then in Moscow, where he set up the local Portfolio and Pricing management function and subsequently was heading the local structured finance department. László joined the Central Bank of Hungary at the beginning of 2017, where he is responsible for the prudential, consumer protection and AML supervision of the money market institutions.