No.	Question	EBA Answer
1	Thank you for sending the clarification responses. Just to confirm, EBA are looking for suppliers to support their search for business analysis professionals only? There is no scope for recruitment across the business?	The procurement procedure covers the supply of interim staff in the field of business analysis. The main business analysis profiles required are: Risk Analyst, Impact Assessment Analyst/Economist, Business Analyst (Recovery and Resolution). These profiles are examples of the type of profile required. In the course of the contract other profiles in the field of business analysis may be required. The procurement procedure is not for the supply of interim staff in fields such as administration, finance, or communication.
