

The Authority

The European Banking Authority (“EBA”) is an independent EU Authority established on 1 January 2011 by Regulation (EC) No. 1093/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 24 November 2010, and published in the Official Journal of the European Union (L 331/12) on 15 December 2010.

The Mission

With a view to improving the functioning of the EU internal market, the EBA contributes to ensuring a high quality, effective and consistent level of regulation and supervision in its areas of competence. It also promotes public values such as the stability of the financial system, the transparency of markets and financial products, and the protection of depositors and investors.

It works to prevent regulatory arbitrage and guarantee a level playing field, strengthens international supervisory coordination, promotes supervisory convergence and provides advice to the Union institutions in the areas of banking, payments and e-money regulation and supervision, and related corporate governance, auditing and financial reporting issues.

The EBA is currently inviting applications for traineeship at its offices in London, United Kingdom.

Further information on the EBA is available on the EBA website: www.eba.europa.eu

Traineeship in the Resolution Unit Ref. TR RES 06/2017

<h3>Description of the activities of the unit</h3>
--

The Resolution Unit fulfils the tasks assigned to the EBA by the EU framework on banking crisis management. This framework, which includes the Bank Recovery and Resolution Directive (BRRD), the Regulation establishing the Single Resolution Mechanism (SRM Regulation), as well as the Deposit Guarantee Schemes Directive (DGSD), is in line with internationally agreed principles, and aims at ensuring that banks can be resolved in an orderly manner while preserving financial stability and protecting depositors' money. In particular, the Unit is responsible for developing regulatory products such as technical standards, guidelines and reports in relation to resolution planning and resolution actions, which will be included in the EU Single Rulebook for banking. The Unit is involved in forthcoming regulatory initiatives on financial institutions other than banks and on financial market infrastructures. It also provides assistance in the establishment and functioning of Resolution Colleges and Crisis Management Groups, monitors practices in the Member States, and performs binding and non-binding mediation at the request of the authorities.
