VACANCY NOTICE
No. CLR SEC 16/2012

The Authority

The European Banking Authority ("the EBA") is an independent EU Authority established on 1 January 2011 by Regulation (EC) No. 1093/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 24 November 2010, and published in the Official Journal of the European Union (L 331/12) on 15 December, 2010.

The Mission

With a view to improving the functioning of the EU internal market, the EBA contributes to ensuring a high quality, effective and consistent level of regulation and supervision in its areas of competence. It also promotes public values such as the stability of the financial system, the transparency of markets and financial products, and the protection of depositors and investors.

It works to prevent regulatory arbitrage and guarantee a level playing field, strengthens international supervisory coordination, promotes supervisory convergence and provides advice to the Union institutions in the areas of banking, payments and e-money regulation and supervision, and related corporate governance, auditing and financial Supervisory Reporting issues.

As an integral part of the ESFS, the EBA works closely together with its sister authorities, EIOPA and ESMA, as well as the Joint Committee and the ESRB.

EBA is currently inviting applications for a position as a Data Analysis Officer on secondment at its offices in London, United Kingdom.

Further information on the EBA is available on the EBA website: www.eba.europa.eu.

DATA ANALYSIS OFFICER

The Data Analysis Officer on secondment we are looking for will play an important role in underpinning the regulatory efforts of the EBA with data management and quantitative analyses of policy proposals.

In particular, under the overall management of the Director of Regulation, the Data Analysis Officer on secondment will contribute to the development of internal databases, quantitative tools and quantitative based analyses related to the preparation of regulatory technical standards.

The candidate is expected to have a strong quantitative and economic background with an interest in the building of databases, extraction tools and reporting tools.

The Data Analysis Officer on secondment will, in addition, act as a liaison officer between the IT department and Policy Experts and build a quantitative platform that can be used to support the development of policy proposals and their analyses in regulation area of the EBA.

Job description

Main responsibilities:

- Assisting in the development of the EBA internal data warehouse on the basis of the needs of the regulation area of the EBA;
- Preparing quantitative analyses on a wide range of topics related to banking regulation and the development of regulatory technical standards;
- Acting as the main point of contact for the IT department on the development of quantitative business tools and providing IT with the necessary information about the business side for the completion of IT projects.
- Providing data analyses to internal committees and policy working groups;
- Externally representing the EBA on a technical level in his/her area of expertise;
- Effectively cooperating with the other ESAs and the ESRB on data related topics.
